

I myself was greatly pleased to have the local traffic available to me when I recently traveled through the Washington DC area. I had only had my satellite radio for a week. It was very useful and repeated the info I needed.